Update from the Ad Hoc Committee

In July, the Ad Hoc Committee continued our work to develop a proposal for the future of the CPUC building and property. Among other developments (more on that next week), we welcomed two members to our committee, Mel Marginet and Daryl Dorge, both of whom live in the Lord Roberts neighbourhood. You can meet Mel and Daryl here.

Mel Marginet

Mel is a life-long environmentalist, a passionate cyclist and the Workplace Commute Organizer (WCO) at Winnipeg's Green Action Centre. She is the co-founder and artistic director of Theatre by the River and the publisher at Great Plains Publications. Mel loves living in Lord Roberts and is glad to bring her experience and gifts to the Ad Hoc Committee.

Daryl Dorge

Daryl is a Laboratory Analyst who specializes in biopharmaceutical quality control. After establishing himself in his science career, Daryl returned to acting, an early love, and has a growing list of film credits to his name. Daryl lives in Lord Roberts with his partner, a United Church minister. He is glad to participate in actions that keep his chosen neighbourhood strong and vital.

From Dawn:

Hello Everyone. I returned from vacation this week, glad to be back and excited to re-enter the life of our faith community. My time away was simple, but renewing, with lots of time for long conversations, long walks and long hours of reading.

Some of you know that my vacation began on a hard note. My dog, Poppy, was struck and killed by a vehicle one block from our Winnipeg home on July 15, just hours before we were to leave. As she had done before, Poppy escaped from the house. But this time, she was hit. I miss her poppy-ness terribly, but in the midst of it, there is such kindness. Your notes, emails, texts and flowers are stitching me back together. Warmest thanks for this tender care. See or talk to you soon.
